Day 6

Ancient Roman City Tour and Dead Sea Experience

The 6th day of our Luxury Egypt and Jordan Tours once again begins with a hearty breakfast being served at your hotel, and at the agreed-upon time, you will again be picked up by your English-speaking driver, who will then take you to see Jerash, the incredibly impressive ruins of an ancient Roman provincial city that attracts tens of thousands of visitors each year. After visiting this ancient Roman city, you will then be taken to the Dead Sea, which is famous for its incredibly high salt content and also for being the lowest dry area on earth. While at the Dead Sea, you will have some time to enjoy the benefits of its mineral-rich mud, and you will have the opportunity to float on top of the water. Don't be surprised if you see people casually reading books while floating on their backs. When evening time approaches, you will enjoy a nice relaxing drive back to your hotel in Amman, a journey that takes approximately 2.5 hours. On arrival at your hotel, you can either head out or explore the area on your own, or you can simply relax and unwind at the hotel. Meals Included: Breakfast.

Lost City Tour at Petra

Hotel breakfast, and then get ready for a day you are never likely to forget—a day that will see you visiting Jordan's biggest and, without question, most famous attraction, the Rose Red City of Petra. At the agreed time, you will again be picked up from your hotel, and then you will be driven to Petra, which is about a 2.5-hour drive. Petra, also often referred to as the Rose Red City, was established by the Arab Nabateans, a nomadic tribe, sometime during the 6th century BC. The Nabateans carved their new city into the rock of the Jordan Desert, and it was from here that they were able to establish a powerful commercial empire that would eventually reach all the way to Syria. On arrival at Petra, your first walk will lead you to the canyon, which is officially called the Siq, and you will pass between towering rock formations, some reaching more than 80 meters above you. Next, you will move on to see the most striking monument at the site, the Treasury. After some time exploring the Treasury, you will move on to see the Street of Facades, the Royal Tombs, and finally Pharaoh's Castle. With your amazing tour of Petra now complete, you can sit back and relax while you are being driven back to your luxury hotel in Amman, where you will be spending the last night of your unforgettable Egypt and Jordan luxury tour package. Meals Included: Breakfast.
